

Legacy-Driven Leadership

Lessons from the Animal Kingdom

Objectives

After the presentation, the participants will be able to:

1. Identify negative and positive leader behaviors
2. Discuss how to leave a legacy as a leader

Questions

- Who was your most effective leader?
- Why did you remember him?
- What were the qualities that you admired in him?

What kind of leader are you?

Blank Wall

Good listener

What kind of leader are you?

Bad tempered

Sense of humor

What kind of leader are you?

Doubter

Motivator

What kind of leader are you?

Blames

Takes Responsibility

What kind of leader are you?

Self-centered

Shows Empathy

What kind of leader are you?

Mistrusts

Shares Authority

What kind of leader are you?

Arrogant

Humble

What kind of leader are you?

Indecisive

Decisive

What kind of leader are you?

Lacks focus and drive

Focussed and committed

What kind of leader are you?

Intimidating

Inspiring

Results

- 0-25 = You might not be remembered, or will be remembered as an infamous leader
- 26-50 = Vaguely remembered
- 51-75 = You will most likely be remembered as a leader with a few commendable qualities
- 76-100 = You have the ability to influence people, initiate change, and potentially leave a legacy behind

Leaving a Legacy

- Understanding
  - Self
  - Your group
  - Organization
  - Your role as a leader
- Develop a tough mind set
- Have a clear vision of where you want to go

Leaving a Legacy

- Master the fine art of communication
  - Communicating expectations
  - Giving positive and negative feedback
  - Having difficult conversations
- Walk the talk
- Take responsibility and accountability

Leaving a Legacy

- Mentor people, genuinely care to advance others
- Invest in your own professional and personal growth
- Learn how to motivate yourself
- Be nice

“What counts in life is not the mere fact that we have lived. It is what difference we have made to the lives of others that will determine the significance of the life we lead.”

Nelson Mandela

Thank you